Role play

1. Who you are; Setting the scene.

You work as a trainee (Mary Kimber if you are a woman, Dan Hiles if you are a man) in the real estate agency, Connells in Swindon.

Mr Fitzpatrick, the manager, has left you a note instructing you to meet Mr or Mrs Markland today the 10th of June at 15:00 hrs.

Mary or Dan,

You need to identify what type of house they are seeking with any special requirements and any limitations they may have.

Once you have all this information, suggest two possible houses on our books in Swindon and obtain appointments for house visits. When making the appointments with the owner's, ensure they are willing to negotiate over the asking price.

Do not forget to fill all the information required on the Buyer sheet as this is a new customer whom we do not know.

I only know that they are looking for a quiet place in town in which they can feel "at home". Their 10yr old son is allergic to dust mites (often found in carpets) and Mr Markland doesn't want to do DIY (do-it-yourself) work although Mrs Markland wishes to fit out the kitchen to her own taste. If they find the house of their dreams they will buy it at whatever price.

The following are a selection of possible questions that the Estate Agent needs to answer in order to decide which houses to offer any potential client:

1. The required number and sizes of
 - bedrooms
 - bathrooms,
 - reception rooms
2. How much work to the property do they want or can you reasonably take on?
3. Should the property be single or double story, terraced, detached or semi-detached?
4. What style/period of property is wanted?
5. Garden (front and back), and how important is the size?
6. What size/requirements for the future – e.g. planning additional family or will children be leaving home?
7. Proximity of the house to schools, shops, town centre, motorways, airport etc.

Thank you Mary or Dan

Best regards

John Fitzpatrick
